LOTS OF MUSIC AND FIREWORKS

It will require at least $5,500 to finance the home-coming celebration to be given in honor of the returned soldiers of this district in Charleroi on Thursday, August 21st. This fact was made known at a meeting of all committees which was held in the council room of the borough building Monday evening.

The meeting was called to order at 9 o'clock by Harry W. Scott, chairman of the executive committee, and the various sub-committees were called upon for reports, all of which gave splendid encouragement as to the success of the demonstration.

W. H. Milliken from the finance committee said he expected to be eble to make a final report at least by Friday evening, saying that as far as the committee had gone they had met with encouragement. His committee will be further augmented by the addition of about 20 young ladies under direction of Mrs. Ray Humbert and Mrs. Torbett, who will organize these volunteers into a soliciting corps to raise funds throughout town.

Mr. Leith from the decorating committee reported that they had determined to purchase whatever electrical fixtures were necessary and that arrangements had been made with the West Penn Power company to furnish the electric power. McKean and Fallowfield avenue from Fourth to Seventh streets will be profusely illuminated, as well as Fifth and possibly some of the other cross streets. The official decorator will begin this week on his work of decorating the streets.

The publicity committee reported that advertising matter had been distributed all along this section of the valley, with other matter to go out to the newspapers of the valley during the week.

Mr. Peiper from the entertainment committee reported corespondence with the Conti company of New Castle, and the American-Italian company at Dunbar about fireworks. Also as to the arrangements for the dinner to the soldiers to be served at the various churches. The matter of fireworks was left with the committee to arrange and all their actions were approved.

Burgess Woodward reported for the music committee, and said they

BIG OIL WELL IS STRUCK AT DUNNS

A 750-barrel oil well was struck at Dunn's station, near the southern boundary of Washington county on Monday. The well is located on the Wright farm, and is what is known as the Fomer field. The Wright well was drilled in several days ago, but later drilling was resumed and 32 feet deeper the pay streak was struck and immediately the oil began to gush.

This is the largest well struck in Washington county in years, and produced great excitement at the county seat, which reminded old timers of the great oil boom in that territory about thirty years ago, which brought such activity and much wealth to the county. The Wright well is owned by Waynesburg people.

PROF. G. G. HERTZOG TAKEN BY DEATH

Prof. G. G. Hertzog, aged almost 83 years, and for 50 years a member of the faculty of the California Normal School, died at his home in California Sunday night after an illness of just one week.

Prof. Hertzog was active in civic and church affairs, as well as in educational work. He was a member of the Christian church of California, and on numerous occasions occupied the pulpit in the absence of the pastor. Though born near Point Marion, Fayette county, Prof. Hertzog came to California when a young man and continued to reside there until his death. He attended the California Normal School and later became a member of the corps of instructors. He resigned from the chair of mathematics three years ago, having at that time occupied it for half a century. For 44 years he was a member of the board of trustees of the school and during that time served as secretary of the board.

Prof. Hertzog leaves his wife, formerly Miss Emily Hertig, and two children, Dr. W. Scott Hertzog, who recently resigned as principal of the Normal School, and Dr. Lucy Hertzog of Chardon, O., near Cleveland.

Funeral services were held this afternoon from the California Christian church, with interment in Highland cemetery.

CAPT. DUVALL HAS RETURNED HOME

Capt. F. C. Duvall of Monessen has returned home after serving ten months in the Medical Reserve Corps at Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J. He will resume his practice at Monessen after spending several days with his brother Loman Duvall of Speers.

Men Arrested For Stealing Autos Enter Pleas of Guilt

Thomas Allen and Thomas Jennings of Monongahela arrested by the Charleroi police about a month ago charged with the theft of automobiles, appeared before court at Washington on Monday and entered pleas of guilty, before Judge J. A. McIlvaine. Sentence was not pronounced and the two were remanded to jail. Through their counsel, D. M. McCloskey, leniency was asked. The men were held under the recent act of assembly, making the stealing of automobiles a very serious offense. Judge McIlvaine referred to this fact and stated that he was in full sympathy with that law, and believed in treating it as the legislature had intended, and that violators of it ought to be punished according to the spirit of the law.

In consideration of these facts the court further remarked it would not wish to let the defendants off, unless it was shown to the court that all those who suffered loss of cars were satisfied and had been fully compensated for the damages they had sustained by reason of the theft of the cars. There were 11 cars stolen, but only three informations were before the court. The two men had been in this thieving business about six months, it was stated.

Their counsel had several letters setting forth the good character of the two defendants and the fact that they had, so far as the officers could learn, never been in trouble before. Both men were employed as fire bosses, and their employer in a letter stated they were industrious men. Their cases may be disposed of at any time this week.

Chief Albright was in attendance at court and stated the men had given every aid possible in helping to locate the stolen cars.

BEGIN SURVEY ON MONONGAHELA PIKE

A corps of engineers under the direction of W. D. Myers, chief engineer of the State Highway department for the Washington county district, began to make surveys today along the old Williamsport pike between Washington and Monongahela, which is to be improved throughout its length.

The old Williamsport, or Monongahela, pike, as it is known today, is one of the most important highways between Washington and the river district and its improvement has been agitated for several years. Plans for some time ago by the State Highway department. Portions of it have been improved, but now need repairs. It is understood that repairs are to be made where needed and the unimproved portions rebuilt entirely.

9:04 TRAIN WILL STOP AT DRAVOSBURG

Arrangements have been made whereby the train leaving the Charleroi station Wednesday morning at 9:04, North bound, will stop at Dravosburg, for the benefit of those people from Charleroi and vicinity who wish to attend the Knights of Columbus picnic at Olympic park, above McKeesport. This arrangement was announced by Mr. Crowley today.

FINED FOR PASSING WORTHLESS CHECKS

William Smith, of Monongahela, charged under a recent act of assembly with giving checks on a bank where he had no funds in that bank to meet them, admitted his guilt before Judge McIlvaine in crimnal court at Washington on Monday. He gave a check on a bank at Dunbar, W. Va., and had them cashed at the Alexander & Co., bank in Monongahela. They went to protest. Smith was sentenced to the charge to pay the costs, a fine of $1, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months. The money secured on the checks was $50 and $28. If he pays these amounts and interest, cost and protest fees he will be released.

ROSTRAVER'S BIG HARVEST HOME

The Rostraver township harvest home picnic, an annual event, will be held in McClain's grove, near Olive Branch church, on Saturday, August 16. The committee on arrangements has a splendid program outlined, which will include band music and speeches by noted orators.

This annual event always attracts thousands of people from the eastern section of Westmoreland county and this year will not prove an exception. Likewise a large number of candidates for county offices will be on hand to greet their hoped-to-be constituents, and as there are a large number of men seeking political honors, the candidate list at the picnic is expected to be a long one.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY OFFICERS HUNTING MONESSEN ROBBERS

Believe That Thieves Who Made Bold Hold-Up Went To The City

NO CLUE OF THE BANDITS.

Allegheny county and Pittsburgh city detectives are making a county-wide search for two masked automobile bandits, who late last Friday night attacked Mrs. Lottie Welsh at No. 80 Schoonmaker avenue, Monessen, and after choking her into insensibility, robbed the house of diamonds valued at over $2,000 and $200 in money. It is now the belief of the police that the bandits drove to Pittsburgh after the robbery and Pittsburgh police have been asked to be on the lookout for them.

It was at first said that the men suspected were from Charleroi and had visited the house but a few hours before the robbery. The Monessen police picked up a couple of suspects, but the victims of the robbery could not identify them, and they were turned loose. Now it is said that Mrs. Welsh is unable to identify the men which will make the apprehension of the robbers a very difficult matter.

The Donora police have so far obtained no clue to the robbers who looted the Bayne store in Donora on Friday night last. The conviction goins ground that the work was done by professionals and that plans for the robbery had been well matured before the job was undertaken. However the police have notified other cities of the robbery and a sharp lookout is being kept for any clues that might lead to the apprehension of the robbers.

ACCIDENT DUE TO BRIGHT HEAD LIGHTS

E. E. Washabaugh, a traveling insurance agent of Donora, admitted before court on Monday a violation of the automobile laws. He was fined $10 and costs. The prosecutor was Richard Barr. On June 30 late in the evening Mr. Washabaugh collided with a car on the Mingo road. The prosecutor averred he was driving at an excessive rate of speed. Mr. Washabaugh said the accident was due to the glare of the lights on the car into which he ran. He had non-glare headlights on his car.

TO DISCONTINUE FREE TELEPHONES

At a meeting of the borough council of Monessen held last week a hornet's nest was stirred up when H. J. Moyer, representing the Bell Telephone company, announced that all free toll call by the borough would be discontinued. He declared the franchise provided that when any pole tax was assessed by the borough all free service should be discontinued, but the company now was disposed to continue only the toll service and allow free phone service in the municipal building. A special committee was appointed to discuss the question with the company.

The representative of the company said that it was the experience of the telephone company that 50 per cent of the borough calls were not on official business.

FORMER RESIDENT IS. MARRIED IN PITTSBURGH

John H. Mumbower, a former resident of Charleroi, now a cotton broker of Fort Worth, Texas, and Mrs. Florence R. Beardsley, of the same city, were married in Pittsburgh on Monday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Charlesworth, at the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. Mumbower are visiting with relatives in Monongahela, and expect to return to their southern home some time the latter part of the month.

THE NEED OF THE HOUR

The disturbances in this country are economic. They arise from a false notion among the masses that they are not getting a square deal and that strikes and violence, confiscation of private property and the nationalization of all activities and industries provide the only remedy. A wave of revolution is sweeping over the land. and cool heads and calm leaders are wanted. The first thing that interests the average workingman is his wages and what he can buy for the money he receives. When he sees that he can buy only one half as much with a dollar as he could five years ago he listens to the strike leader, to the demagogue with a Bolshevist cure, and makes trouble. He is told the capitalist class is to blame and immediately assists in promoting a programme to destroy the capitalists.

The masses of the working men are not to blame, but their leaders are. The thousands who do not think for themselves are not the real disturbers but their leaders who think for them are at fault. The promoters of these revolutionary and violent methods frankly admit their object is to destroy the capitalist class, forgetting that the capitalists are thosewho have a little home, a deposit in a bank, a life insurance policy, a share or two in the institutions where they work. To all such the "Down with the capitalists!" cry does not appeal. They recall that the principal aim of the constitution of the Russian Socialist Federal Soviet Republic is the complete suppression of the capitalist class, and under Bolshevism the capitalist class includes all persons who do not perform manual labor for a livelihood or who employ any persons in their business or who own any property or receive any income. substituting therefor the rule or dictatorship of the poorest elements of the peasantry. The great mass of the people are helpless against this dictatorship. A reign o fterror prevails rivaling the terrors of the French Revolution.

The thrift, industry, perserverance and intelligence whch have enabled a portion of the Russian people in the past to acquire and save money have been penalized by the confiscation of all banks and banking institutions and their transformation into a state monopoly. Confiscation under what is called nationalization has elimnated from all nudustrial establishments such as factories, mills and mines, the business acumen and scientific methods necessary to successful operation and competitive methods. The absolute control of their operation and management is placed in the hands of the employes. This has been followed by a stagnation of the industrial life of the country and even those able to operate have operated under enormous loss, the deficiencies being met from the unlimited issue of paper money printed by the government. Repudiation has followed confiscation, and depreciation of the currency to almost nothing has made barter the only method of exchange. As a consequence Russia is in a deplorable condition and the end is not far off.

OLD DOGS AND NEW TRICKS

It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks even when the teacher and those taught are members of the same political party. The human mind at ninety is conservative, averse to change of any sort. Moreover, Tammany Hall has never been accused of idealism and is more or less frankly in politics for the substantial gain to be derived therefrom. In consequence it has usually been at outs with every national Democratic administration concerned itself more with reform than with party interests. John F. Van Voorhis of New York, president of the board of elections and grand sachem of Tammany Hall, no doubt speaks his honest opinion on the subject of the league of nations, yet he says just about what might be expected and it is no surprise to find him quoted as saying on his ninetieth birthday:—

"I'm opposed to the whole darned business. I think we ought to mind our own business. I want to see my country stand alone as it has always done and go to the help of other countries when it feels it ought to. I do not want to see my country force into partnership with nations that don't see things as we do. I want it to be ready to help in time of trouble but not be obligated to do it. No, sir, let the United States remain the United States and keep out of the superstate."

This is a picture of what may happen to America if the programme of socialist violence, nationalization and confiscation is put into operation. The hope of the nation is that the majority making up the army of capitalists will unite in a mighty force at the polls and elsewhere to defeat the forces bent upon destroying America's institutions and established government. Cool heads and calm leaders are needed and will not be wanting.—New York Herald.

Highway robbery appears to be the principal diversion of a number of people at the present time. The number of robberies that has been reported of late would indicate that there are too many who prefer to live by their wits and ability to pilfer rather than by honest work.

Charleroi's big celebration next week is going to be one of the greatest events ever held in the valley, according to present indications. All committees are now working to a common end, and all are getting results. With unanimity of action and co-operation of effort there is but one result—that is success.

The decision of Dr. Martin, Chief of the State Department of Health, to come to Charleroi and look over our territory and assist in selecting a suitable site for a new hospital building will be very acceptable to our people. Dr. Martin is a man of broad experience, and from the character of data he desires is evidently well equipped to select a location that will best meet the various needs of the hospital.

STOLEN WHEEL IS RECOVERED

Tony Savastco, who had his bicycle stolen from in front of the Palace theatre last, April, recovered the wheel Monday evening, at a session of the borough court held before Burgess Woodward last evening.

It apeared that the wheel had been taken by one George Fetzko, now serving time in a penal institution for robbery. Fetzko was from the vicinity of Belle Vernon, and getting into some minor trouble the wheel then in his possession was taken from him and sold by Constable Board of North Belle Vernon, for costs. The officer later sold it to a boy in North Belle Vernon for $7.50, who had been using it for some time. On Sunday he was riding the machine in Charleroi, when Savastco saw it and recognized it. He informed the police, and the wheel was taken to the borough building to await an adjudication. This was held last evening. at which time Savastco and the officer agreed to reimburse the lad who had purchased the wheel, who was at the hearing with his mother, all charges withdrawn. and everybody went home satisfied.

STARTLING NEWS FOR GAS CONSUMERS

West Virginia State Geologist Gives Warning at the Wheeling Convention

GAS-SAVING REFORM NEEDED

Wheeling—The natural gas situation has aroused the officials of the different companies in West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and their concern has been intensified by the startling statements of Dr. I. C. White, state geologist, at the convention of the Natural Gas Association of West Virginia, just closed here In the paper which he read before the convention he presented facts and drew conclusions that have interested the gas consumers—both domestic and industrial—throughout the country, or at least that part of it that depends mostly on the commodity for heat, light and power

The state geologist's position gave emphasis to the stand taken by him, as his life has been given to the study of problems and conditions directly connected with the development and conservation of West Virginia's mineral wealth. This is not the first time that Dr. White has sounded a note of warning as to the waste of natural gas, which has been one of the biggest crimes against industry ever perpetrated in this country, although performed in ignorance. Many years ago he called attention to the fact that millions of cubic feet of gas were being wasted every year, and predicted at that time that this waste would be deplored. However, it has continued until now there is a general shaking up all over the gas-producing and gas-consuming districts, and the problem of how to conserve and use to the best advantage the gas that is still left us has now become a reality for everybody. Dr. White sounded the warning in the following six points:

(1) Approximately three-fourths of the original supply of natural gas in the West Virginia fields is already exhausted, much more than half of which has been wasted without any attempt at utilization.

(2) Of the portion used for domestic purposes at least 70 to 80 per cent is now wasted through the use of crude burners resulting in bright flames instead of blue, and also through lack of intelligent methods of applying the flame to the object to be heated.

(3) Natural gas, practically double in heating value the best grade of manufactured gas. has always been sold too cheap and this more than any other cause. has led to its universal waste and wasteful use.

(4) It is such a pure and cleanly fuel and so limited in supply that it should have been preserved entirely for domestic use. and its introduction into general industrial purposes was an economic mistake which should speedily be remedied

(5) The only effective means of conserving the waning supply of natural gas and prolonging its life to a distant future for domestic purposes is to raise the price of the same gradually until it approaches the cost at which manufactured gas can be furnished for fuel purposes, since otherwise it will be impossible for the producing and marketing companies to maintain a satisfactory supply to those who prefer to use gaseous fuel.

(6) This increased price (even two or three times) over that now charged the domestic consumer would not necessarily increase the cost of his fuel bills over that which he now pays, in fact. in most cases it would lead to a reduction of the same through the intervention of more efficient burners and more intelligent use of the same whereby the 80 per cent of the available heat in natural gas now ordinarily wasted by the consumer would be conserved and utilized. During the colder months of the year, at least, an advancing rate should be charged those who consume large quantities of gas in a wasteful manner. and the industrial use of natural gas should be restricted to those manufacturing concerns that can, from the nature of their product. afford to pay the domestic rate. since the gradual rise suggested in natural gas rates would enable manufacturing enterprises to change without hardship to other forms of fuel. or if they desire, install their own fuel gas plants, thus availing themselves of gaseous fuel at first cost.

It was plainly shown at the convention that if past methods of gas consumption are continued natural gas in West Virginia will become a rarity. Already the general public has suffered from an insufficient supply during the cold months of the year, and many factories that once used gas have been compelled to discontinue it. Action such as suggested by Dr. White would be a revolution in the business of natural gas production and marketing. It would automatically limit the development of new gas territory and remove the necessity for the high-pressure methods that are now followed by the gas companies. The acceptance of high rates by the public for the purpose of conserving the gas supply would properly entitle the public to ask for the assurance of real conservation through the powers of the Public Service Commission. In other words, increase in the gas rates for the purpose of conservation ought to imply active supervision of all gas territory, and the licensing of gas production to the end that gas should be economically developed, and the production at any time should not be greater than the public needs It is believed that the gas-consuming population will take note of these matters and that the waste of the state's great natural gas resource will stop at once

TWILIGHT GAME THIS EVENING

The second ball game of the series between Monongahela, Charleroi and Ellsworth will take place at the local grounds this evening at 6:30 o'clock, instead of Thursday evening, as stated in Monday's Mail. The Monongahela team is coming with a strong lineup, in which Joe Guder and Rapp, former members of local teams, will be found. Other old-timers will be the McGinty trio, Charley Davis and Ody Abbott. The local team will present practically the same lineup as on Saturday last, and if it plays the same brand of ball ought to be returned a winner. The fans ought to give the boys generous support, and attend the game in large numbers..

BOXING BOUTS AN EXTRA FEATURE

One of the features which has been provided for the home-coming celebration day, but to which the general public will be charged an admission, will be the boxing exhibition which will be staged at the ball park This feature is looked upon as something entirely outside the jurisdiction of the general committee, although all soldiers appearing in uniform will be admitted free. The general public, however, will be charged an admission fee, possibly of $1 to $1.50, according to location of seats. It is said the promoters have some splendid talent and that good exhibitions will be given.

All members of the Protected Home Circle are requested to meet on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. Hall. Installation of officers. Refreshments will be served after business meeting. 57—t2

STEAMER REPAIRED; BACK IN SERVICE

The steamer Hecla, which was rammed by the steamer Clingerman in the fog last Saturday morning on the Monongahela, near the Catsburg mine has been repaired, and this morning returned to the towing trade for the Carnegie Steel company. The Hecla was repaired at the Dravosburg Docks controlled by the Hillman Transportation company.

Avoid arrest by having your Auto Headlights fitted with approved lenses at Regan and Hormell's. 52t6 hed been waiting to hear from the finances. There will be no trouble to secure music, and it is expected that the Donora Steel Works, the Pittsburgh Steel Products, Ellsworth, the local Slovak, the California, and possibly the New Eagle band will be here for the day.

Mr. Tussing from the parade committee reported that everything in his department was working smoothly and that invitations would be extended to every organization in the district to take part in the demonstration.

The report of the speakers' committee was approved, and many expressions of commendations were made for the excellent selections made by them in securing Governor Tener and Mr Rupp.

The entertainment committee was directed to get in communication with DeLloyd Thompson as to an exhibition of flying on that day and this the committee will will do at once.

Chairman Scott appointed a program committee consisting of Prof. I. T. Daniel as chairman, Squire Newton and Jack Mathias, to arrange the program for the day.

After disposing of some other matters the committee adjourned to meet Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the public meeting room of the borough building.

BOROUGH BUILDING WAS A BUSY CENTER

The borough building was one of the busiest spots in town last evening, with three meetings scheduled at the same time. The Democrats held a suggestion meeting in the tax collector's office down stairs; the general committee on the home-coming celebration held a meeting in the council chamber, while the Charleroi Telephone company held a meeting in the public meeting room of the building.

WHY DO WE NEED MEDICINE

Some of Us Never Without It.

Do you often look around and wonder is so-and-so takes as much medicine as you do: if Smith and Jones has to take a day off when you do? Or wonder why you don't seem to be able to get away from "remedies" and "reliefs?" Headaches, neuralgia, bilious attacks, dizzy spells, and so many other things. Yet most of them, yes more than half of the ills that beset mankind are traceable to constipation. Relief is welcome to be sure but sometimes its dangerous to neglect their cure. One BA-HA-NI each evening will in a very short time eliminate the cause of over half of our ills! Think of it—how simple and how sensible! Get a 25c or 50c box of BA-HA-NI today. Keep it on your dining table and say good-bye to stomach and bowel troubles! Sold by Hennings Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.

Wisdom in Saving.

A man may, if he knows not how to save as he gets, keep his nose all his life to the grindstone and die not worth a groat at last.

Household Hint.

"Albert, I want you to see the new dining room set Mr. Brown has bought for his wife. It would just match our wall paper."

Abbreviating Names.

The pioneers give up beautiful names and the postal authorities abbreviate them.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Optimistic Thought.

A low station with safety is better than a high one with danger.

Learn From Mistakes.

If you make a mistake don't look back at it long. Take the reason of the thing into your own mind, and then look forward. Mistakes are lessons of wisdom.—Hugh White.

Walking the Channel.

Men walked from Dublin to Paris once. This was, it is figured out, in Neolithic times, when, geologically, Ireland was connected by land with Britain just as Britain was connected with Europe. And today the depression of the channel coasts is again and rapidly going on.—Ladies' Home Journal.

To Climb a Fence.

One of the modern conveniences for farmers is a wooden stairway built on both sides of a fence. This inexpensive provision does away with injury to fence and to careless fence climbers, but in no wise interferes with the purpose of the fence as a barrier to stock.

Suspicious of Clever Women.

"Clever women are looked upon with suspicion, especially by the pious. It is wicked to be clever. That is why so many people write 'be good, sweet maid, and let who can be clever' in autograph albums; they flatter themselves that there is a real, if hidden, affinity between virtue and stupidity. And in truth there is is something to be said in favor of the position. The angels are all, don't you think, rather stupid? So were ever so many of the saints. And some of them, I believe, were dirty—I mean the saints. Angels' things are always well laundered, although everybody knows, since some artist or other treated his wife badly, that soiled linen drapes ever so much better. Mrs. Briggs, our washerwoman, insists that she doesn't want to go to heaven in case she might still 'ave to do the washin'."—From "Jimmy's Wife," by Jessie Champion.

Oldest Living Creature.

Among the oldest life forms on the globe is the shellfish, known as the lingula, a specimen of which was taken from Manila bay several years ago. The genus, according to scientists, has remained practically unaltered for more than 100,000,000 years. With the extraordinary changes of climate and environment since the world began most forms of life with which science is familiar have been transformed or have altogether disappeared since the geologic ages. "That the genus lingula," says the Journal of Heredity, "should have survived for all these ages, and undergone virtually no change, is striking evidence of the fact that the germ plasm, which under some conditions, as in the case of the horse and the dog, is capable of extraordinary variation, is under other conditions remarkably constant."

Ancient Burial Chest.

A cist (sepulchral chest) of massive slabs, enclosing a cinerary urn, said to be pre-Christian, has been found near Douglas, Isle of Man.

Real Definition of Politics.

Politics is but another name for God's way of teaching the masses ethics under the responsibility of great present interests.—Wendell Phillips.

Remarkable Economy!

MAZOLA is used over and over again without transmitting flavors or odors from one food to another. It is not absorbed into foods.

And remember—Mazola is equal to butter for cooking, better and more wholesome than lard and compounds and you use ¼ to ⅓ less Mazola for shortening, as in pie crusts, etc.

Turning the Joke.

Now and then we meet men who are happiest when hitting some one a hard rap over the knuckles. These are the men that wither right up when you get a good joke on them. And have you not noticed that such men are most always in trouble because somebody has said mean things about them? How slow we are to learn that maple syrup beats vinegar all to pieces as an attraction for honey bees!

Good and Bad Effects of Tea.

The action of tea as a stimulant on the brain is well known. Tea causes a slight rise in the blood pressure, gives a fillup to the heart, causes somewhat deeper breathing and restores for a spell waning muscular power. Its chief demerit is the retarding influence that it exerts upon digestion.

Early Declines.

If the truth could be discovered, probably it would be found that one reason why a woman lives longer than a man is because she doesn't pay any attention to statistics.—Dallas News.

Takes Will Power.

Good intentions can wind the alarm clock, but it takes will power to get out of bed in the morning.—Toledo Blade.

It's Ended Then.

Youngham—"How can I tell when the honeymoon is over?" Oldham—"When your wife stops telling things and begins asking questions."

And That's Plenty.

There is only one day in the year on which the inhabitants of Monte Carlo are allowed to gamble at the Casino tables—The prince of Monaco birthday.

Keeping Hands In Shape.

For the man who does the work about his own car and yet does not care to have hands look like a garage mechanic's, the following is valuable: Four ounces of grain alcohol, three ounces of glycerin and three ounces of water, shaken up in a bottle. If this liquid is applied to the hands before beginning work, a good washing with soap and water afterward removes all traces of the labor.

Another One Settled.

Yes, Ettie, it is perfectly proper for a gentleman to remove his hat on entering a house. A great many husbands have become confused on this point, it appears, as they will oftentimes remove their shoes on entering their homes, especially if the hour be rather late. This, of course, is a conservation measure of questionable value.—Indianapolis Star.
